1. PREAMBLE

Industries make huge investments to apply technology in manufacturing products and offering services while educational institutions make considerable investments to create a learning base for Engineers/Technocrats. While the institutions keep pace with technological innovations to make their courses current and relevant, the industries identify the scope for fine-tuning the basic technologies to make them application oriented. If the resources and expertise are pooled and made accessible to Faculty members and Students of institutions on the one end and the workforce, Engineers and Managers of industries on the other hand then the industries and the institutions will be immensely benefited through continuous updating of technology, consolidation of learning base and applied research work in turn will result in continuously enhancing the quality of output of both the institution and industry. The mutual platform has been created for students to explore, experiment and excel in their field of interest thereby enhancing the quality of learning for students which in turn helps in NBA, NAAC accreditation and NIRF, ARIIA ranking.
